Principal's Messages

Attendance

It is vitally important that children attend school on every day that they are well. One day of absence can cause a child to miss out on important lessons that will leave gaps in their knowledge and cause them to fall behind. If a student has more than two days absence in a term there will be definite academic consequences. While most students at Central State School have been attending every day unless they are ill, there are still a small number who are not. I will be calling all parents of students who have had more than five absences this term and will be outlining the Department's policy on attendance and subsequent consequences, including prosecution, if necessary.

New Teacher Aides

Welcome to Miss Amanda and Miss Donna, our new teacher aides who are supporting students in classes and in the playground. I would also like to thank all of the applicants who applied for the job. The level of professionalism displayed by all applicants was admirable.

Free Dress Day

We are very lucky to have our annual P&C Easter raffle happening this term. Come in free dress on Thursday and bring a donation of an Easter Egg or a gold coin to help purchase Easter Eggs for the raffle. Tickets will be sold from the office for just fifty cents starting next week. There will be a first, second and third prize and I hope that this year will be my lucky year to take out a prize. Or will it be your turn? Like they say, "You've got to be in it to win it!"

Central State School Rugby League

On Friday the Central State School Rugby League team competed in the Charters Towers Trial day. The team competed with great sportsmanship and should be proud of their achievements. The team had improved over the 3 week competition. They scored 9 tries in 4 games. Well Done boys!!

A special congratulations should go to Ivor and Patrick who were selected to play in the Possibles V Probables. They played well and were very close to selection in the Charters Towers Team. Central's player of the carnival was Torique. Well done Torique!
